TORONTO TIDINGS

Mr. Harry E. Grooms resumed his duties at the Union Station postoffice on September 3d, after enjoying his three weeks' annual vacation, which he and Mrs. Grooms pleasantly enjoyed in Napanee, Buffalo, a trip over the scenic route to Montreal, then to Ottawa and other parts down east. They also took in the Springbank Park picnic on Labor Day.

Mr. Robert H. Randall, of Paris, was visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mackay and other friends here over Labor Day.

The Wet-Wash Laundry Co. intermediate soft-ball team captured the ladies section championship of the Industrial League, and Miss Carrie Buchanan is on this victorious team.

Miss Alma Brown was down from Markdale for a while lately, packing her belongings and removing them to her old home. Her departure was one of sadness, for she felt sorry to leave us, with whom she had pleasant associations for many years past, and now she is living where mother's tender love is seen or felt no more. Alma will always be warmly welcomed here.

Despite the fact that she is over ninety-four years of age, and the oldest deaf lady in all Canada, if not in America, Miss Annie Perry exhibited a sample of her hand crocheting work at the Canadian National Exhibition, and carried off the red ribbon. Who can beat this at such an age.

Mr. David Peikoff, of Winnipeg, and a recent graduate of Gallaudet College, was in our midst lately making scores of new friends. He also visited London, and took in the Springbank Park picnic over the Labor Day recess. From all appearance he is a fine young man with a smiling countenance.

While H. W. Roberts was up in London attending the Springbank picnic, Mrs. Roberts made for her old home near Purpleville, and intended to remain up there for a week or so, but on September 2d, was notified by long distance telephone to hasten home, and she cheerfully hurried back and gladly entertained our old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Jontie Henderson, of Sarnia, who motored down that evening, and spent several days at "Mora Glen," and enjoyed meeting many old friends in the meantime.

Mrs. Henry Allen, of St. Johns, Que., returned to this city, on from a very pleasant visit with relatives in Michigan and Indiana on September 3d, and then remained here for a week with her daughter, Mrs. Neil A. McGillivray.

Miss Annabel Thomson is back again at her clerical work in the city hall, after a very pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. James P. Orr in Milverton, Breslau, Kitchener and other places. She also took in the big picnic at Springbank Park on Labor Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Coughlin, of Buffalo, enjoyed the Labor Day recess with the latter's parents here. Leo returned home on September 1st, but his wife remained a week longer, and she spent September 6th at "Mora Glen."

Mr. John Terrell, accompanied by his two daughters and son-in-law, has returned from an extensive motor trip to Detroit, London, Brantford, Hamilton, Niagara Falls, Buffalo and many other points. Mr. Terrell also visited Rice Lake and points down east, accompanied by his brother-in-law, Mr. J. L. Smith.

Mr. David Peikoff, of Winnipeg, left for home on September, after a lengthy visit down this way. He was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Shilton during the last week of his stay.

Mr. Charles McLaughlin, is, we are pleased to say, around again after a week's lay up with tonsil trouble followed by quinsy.

Mr. and Mrs. Abbie Roman have returned home from a very pleasant week spent in Niagara Falls, Buffalo and other points thereabouts.

WATERLOO WEE BITS

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Black, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Moynihan, Mrs. William Hagen, Mr. A. Martin, Mr. A. Siess, Mr. Gordon Myers and others, who were at the Springbank picnic, report a great time.

Not to be outdone by other centres in the way of giving others a good time, the deaf of the Twin Cities propose having a "night of nights" on October 18th, with all the fun imaginable thrown in. The trustees of the English church parish hall, on Allan Street, in Waterloo, have granted the deaf the use of this spacious hall free of charge for that date, with all its conveniences. A cordial welcome is extended to one and all. No charge is asked beyond the fact that the ladies are asked to bring a cake or cookies, and we bachelors kindly get a bag of good apples. A committee of three ladies are arranging the sandwiches and other details. Watch these columns for further information. The aim of this party is to give all a grand time, and remain over for the meeting next day. All coming will please notify Mrs. J. A. Moynihan, 49 Willow Street, Waterloo, so arrangements can be made.

Mrs. Percy Smith and baby daughter are spending a few weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Black. Little Miss Barbara Martin, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Martin has returned home after spending a few weeks with Grandma Chapelle in Toronto.

We are pleased to learn that Mrs. G. Cherry, mother of Mrs. Ida Cherry Robertson has been removed to her home from the Galt Hospital. From late Spring until late in the fall it is the custom of our old friend, Mr. John A. Moynihan, to take long strolls every fine Sunday afternoon. He is generally accompanied by "Spotty" the little foxterrier and they walk from five to eight miles, through fields and woods. Mr. Moynihan is a great lover of nature and believes in being out of doors all he can. We could easily say that he and Mr. A. W. Mason, of Toronto, would make an excellent team, as they are both fond of attending out-of-door sports.

Mr. G. Bassler, accompanied by Miss Eva Goetz and Mrs. N. Black, motored to Owen Sound recently. Mr. Bassler and Mrs. Black returned with Mrs. Percy Smith and baby daughter. Wedding bells are being tuned, so Hark, Hark!

BRIGHTON BRIGHTLIGHTS

Miss Mary Parker, of Cobourg, spent a week very pleasantly with her chum, Miss Estella Gerow, in Peterboro. Estella left again on September 10th, along with her brother, for the Belleville school.

Cecil Robbins was making good money snipping beans at the canning factories here, before returning to the Belleville school on September 10th. At one cent a pound, he was able to pocket a few bucks every day. Oh, boy!

Percy Scott, of Point Ann, was up to see his friends here one Sunday recently. Since the death of his wife two years ago, his only child, Dorothy, has been living with her aunt in Saskatchewan, who is a sister of her deceased mother.

Joseph Maysett has returned to his home in Peterboro, after a week's sojourn around here. He is a fine young man and well liked.

Brighton can now boast of at least four large canning factories, and one in the making. During the fall and winter they employ a large army of workers of either sex, but in spring and summer work is slack. The factories are the Spring Valley, Dominion, Colleen and West End, while the one now under construction is to be known as the "Bauford," and is the property of Mr. Milton Branscombe, brother of our Mrs. Maxwell McGregor. However, during the fall and winter, many who would otherwise be laid off from other jobs find work at our busy apple evaporator.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell McGregor recently paid Mr. and Mrs. James Hartwick, of Napanee, a three weeks' visit. Max is now busy in the Colleen canning factory.

Mr. Thomas Dand, of Belleville, motored up to this place, and gathering up Mr. and Mrs. E. Brooks, Miss Lena Shannon and Cecil Robbins, continued on to Picton, where they spent the week-end as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hartley J. Head, and had a very lovely time. On Sunday all went to the Sand Banks. They got up this outing in honor of Mrs. Brook's natal day.

Mr. Maxwell McGregor was in Toronto recently on a business errand, and met many old friends. On his return he called on Clifford Parker for a while.

Mr. H. J. Head, of Picton, had two of his toes badly crushed by a cement crusher, and was obliged to lay up for a few days, but is all right now. He and his wife intended coming over to the Brooks' home for Labor Day, but Hartley's father, brother and sister, turned up for a visit and kept them at home.

Mr. Cliton Parker, who works at Baileboro, was over here for a short visit lately, then went to his brother's place in Cobourg. Clinton has not been feeling any too well of late.

Mrs. E. J. Brooks has a garden laden with Gage and Damask plums, which she wishes to sell. They are of the finest quality and very juicy. Also sweet corn has she for the market.

Mr. Cecil Robbins, who has been holidaying with Mr. and Mrs. Brooks since school closed last June, has now gone back to Belleville for another year of study.

LONDON LEAVES

Mr. Herbert Wilson has returned home from his two weeks' vacation. The first week he and Miss Edith Moley enjoyed a trip to New York City, and the other week was quietly spent at home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Noyes, of Denfield, and their daughter, Mrs. Harry Zavitz, enjoyed a very extensive trip to Strathroy, Chicago, through Iowa and North Dakota, and to Kansas City. It was a glorious trip of wonderful interest and lasted several months. The Noyes delight in traveling and getting a glimpse of the world.

Mr. John Marshall, of Flint, Mich., has been visiting his parents here for the past few weeks. His work over the line has been very slack, hence his sojourn here.

Mr. and Mrs. William McGovern, of Toronto, have returned to that city, after a pleasant week spent with relatives here, following Labor Day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Smalldon, of St. Thomas, got back from their trip to Brussels in time for our picnic on Labor Day. They, with their daughter, motored up to that place to see Mr. Smalldon's father, who is far from well and is still very ill. They may go up and see their sick father again soon.

A GRAND PICNIC

"It's great," laconically said a bystander, as she stood reflecting on the fun and excitement at the picnic, when asked what she thought of this great event. And she was not only right, but her opinions were equally shared by all who took in this happy outing. In fact this picnic resembled, in many respects, a miniature week-end convention. Though the day was slightly marred by a few scattered showers, it was not sufficient to dampen the high fevered enthusiasm that was manifested throughout the day by the large crowd. The attendance was close upon two hundred, and hailing from as far East as Toronto and West as Pontiac, Mich. The proceedings began early in the forenoon, and were kept up intermittently until dusk, when this 1930 grand picnic was brought to a close in a blaze of glory. To Mr. George R. Munro, as President, John F. Fisher as Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Fisher as Matron, Charles A. Ryan as Sports Chairman, A. H. Cowan as General Supervisor, and their noble band of helpers is due the lion's share of the success of the day, and, mind you, each one worked like a slave in making every one feel perfectly at home, and the one who has any grumble to lodge should be taken out and buried at sea. How those in charge conceive to foster such a highly satisfactory event, year in and year out, is still a mystery, into which there is still much need of delving. There was a splendid programme of sports reeled off, but the writer has not received the results, at time of writing, though promised, but the women's and men's softball games are here given, as the writer was chosen as official scorer by Chairman Ryan. It was agreed to play with teams representing the East and West with London as the dividing line and that city on the West side. Here are the ladies' teams:—

East 10—Misses A. Thomson, Captain; C. Youngs, F. Davis, E. Groves, Mesdames J. Orr, H. J. Floyd, W. McGovern and O. Nahrgang.

West 18—Misses S. Fishbein, Captain; M. Cowan, J. Brewer, G. Stoner, E. Goodison, M. Fairful, A. Leckie, and Mrs. J. Mackie.

The score resulted in a victory for the Western team by a score of 18 to 10. It was a keenly contested game, and the losing team took their defeat in a spirit of sportmanship. The battery of the losing team were Miss Annabel Thomson (pitcher), and Mrs. J. P. Orr (catcher), both of whom acquitted themselves admirably. Miss Groves, a sister of Russell Groves, made some sparkling catches. Miss M. Cowan (pitcher), and Mrs. J. Mackie (catcher), were the battery for the victors and worked together in perfection. The West got twelve hits off Miss A. Thompson. While Cowan let the East down with fourteen hits in the seven innings of play.

The men's game was one of the most exciting contests we have seen in a long time, and was stubbornly contested to the very end of seven innings, being called on account of lateness. Like the ladies' contest, this represented East and West on the same conditions. The teams were:—

East 10—A. Forrester, H. J. Lloyd, Captain; M. Rourke, W. McGovern, R. Groves, R. McKenzie, J. T. Shilton, D. Peikoff and M. McMurray.

West 2—E. Paul, A. Hodgins, L. Beauchamp, D. Laporte, J. Toulouse, E. Bell, R. Wright, E. Payne and H. Wilson, Captain.

The batteries were H. Wilson (pitcher), and E. Paul (catcher), for the West, and R. McKenzie (pitcher), and W. McGovern (catcher), for the East. The losing team made eight hits, including a double by J. Toulouse, while the victors garnered fifteen solid smashes off H. Wilson, including two circuit blows by M. Rourke, and one by R. McKenzie, and a corking double by Capt. Lloyd. The game was anyone's until the third inning, when M. Rourke's first homer, with two on the runway settled matters. Score 10 to 2, in favor of the East.

PICNIC MONOXIDES

Herbert Wilson has yet to miss a picnic of the Western Ontario Association of the Deaf, as he has attended every one in the past nine years.

The illness of Miss Irene Cowan prevented her from attending this outing, and her beloved mother sacrificed the day's pleasures in order to give her daughter a mother's angelic care, thus their absence was sorely missed. They have always been conspicuous figures at all previous gatherings.

One of the most willing workers was Albert Fisher, who was always on hand with his car for any emergency. He kindly drove to the Ontario Hospital, and brought out Mrs. James Goodbrand for the day's fun, and then took her home in the evening.

It was a great day for those two deaf sisters, Mrs. Alexander Buchanan, Sr., and Mrs. George Wedderburn, who came all the way up from Toronto. The former to meet her daughter, Miss Lucy Buchanan, from Detroit, and also her son-in-law, Mr. Jack E. Crough, of Walkerville, while it was Mrs. Wedderburn's first glimpse of London, and the beautiful Springbank Park, with all their enchanting environments.

Mrs. John Fisher and her tireless workers deserve much praise for the way every inner man was satisfied, both at noon and in the evening. It was no kid's work to feed such an army, but they managed to work out their well-organized plan to perfection and to the utter satisfaction and gratitude of all. Pause a moment, and think how you were able to get two good meals for only fifty chimes. Who would think?

In the men's softball game, David Peikoff, a sprightly young chap from Winnipeg, with all the evaporating air and crudility of the Western type, showed how ball players should behave when in adversity. In the third inning he had reached first by virtue of a hit, and then ran to second on a bunt, but the opposing fielders argued he had over ran the base and was tagged, but the umpire declared him safe. In the fuss that followed he was asked if he was out. "I don't know for sure, said he, but I'll gladly abide by the referee's decision." This sportsman-like behavior is highly commendable. The referee declared him safe.

On Sunday preceding the picnic day, our room in the V. M. C. A. was very comfortably filled by one of the largest, and perhaps the largest, crowds that ever attended our Sunday services. Nearly one hundred turned out to Mr. John T. Shilton's very able and forcefully given sermon on the "Law of Sowing and Reaping." It was a wonderful sermon and very much enjoyed by the vast crowd. The Toronto speaker strongly reminded all that it was safer to guard what you sow, whether in word, deed or otherwise, for the results will bring greater good or bad according to what you sow. Mrs. William Hagen, of Kitchener, very slowly and charmingly rendered "Weeping will not Save You." Edward Paul assisted with the Lord's Prayer in a very graceful way.

SARNIA SAYINGS

On their return from the London picnic on Labor Day, Mr. and Mrs. Jontie Henderson left next day for Toronto, (where they enjoyed a few days' visit. This was Jontie's first sojourn in the "Queen City" since his marriage—twenty-six years ago.

Miss Alice Leckie, of Detroit, came over to see her parents here, then accompanied her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Mackie, of Dresden, to London and the big picnic at Springbank Park over Labor Day. On their return, Alice went direct through to Detroit, but her sister remained here for a few days with the parents.

Mrs. Adolph Kresin, of Port Huron, was all prepared to go to the Springbank picnic, when she was surprised yet pleased to receive a visit from her sister and brother-in-law, of Toledo, O., and a cousin, of Monroe, Mich., who took Mrs. Kresin for a lengthy motor trip through Northern and Western Michigan, and then back to Toronto, O. It was a trip that will not soon be forgotten.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wark and daughter, Jean, of Wyoming, and Miss Edith Squires, of Petrolia, motored down to London to attend the Shilton meeting on August 31st, but Mr. Wark was obliged to return home the same evening, leaving the rest behind to enjoy the picnic next day, all of whom returned home with Mr. and Mrs. Jontie Henderson Monday evening.

Contrary to expectations, Mr. Douglas McMillan returned to the Belleville school again on September 10th, for the eleventh time. It takes more years to complete one's schooling under pure oralism than under the sign manual system—and yet with poorer results.

Mr. Samuel Pugsley, of Bridgen, went down to Toronto on the M. C. R. fier on August 26th, via Waterford and Hamilton, where he visited old friends and returned on Labor Day, stopping over at London to take in the Springbank picnic.

Mrs. Samuel Darew passed away peacefully to her eternal reward on August 30, in the seventieth year of her age, and was buried on September 2d. She was formerly Miss Margaret Morrison, of Collingwood, and a sister of the late Duncan Morrison, who was the first pupil to enter the Belleville school, the same school she attended later. A write-up of her career appeared in these columns a few years ago.

Jontie Henderson was also in the bunch that went with the McMillan's to Kettle Point on August 10th. His name was obviously omitted in a previous report.

MONTREAL MENTIONS

In these columns of August 28th, the names of Mr. and Mrs. William Dickson were omitted from those who own homes in St. Helen's Park. They are well known and highly respected in that locality.

Mr. and Mrs. Seigler were guests of the Dicksons in St. Helen's Park, on August 31st, and report a good time.

To interest the hundreds of Canadian readers of the JOURNAL, a brief mention of the Montreal Association of the Deaf may be here given. When the body was formed about two years ago, it barely had forty members, but with the untiring efforts of Messrs. S. Walker, R. Garner, H. Armstrong and W. Dickson, the membership is now doubled, and though the struggle is strenuous these noble workers are no quitters and are very sanguine of making it a great organization.

GENERAL GLEANINGS

Up in Cobalt there are two jolly chaps, who are constantly seen to gether. One is Mr. Stayner Shilton, who has not been steadily employed for the past two years, but hopes to hook on soon. The other is Mr. Aleide Audette, who works on the Provincial highway and doing fine. Both chaps recently sent in their respective subscriptions to the JOURNAL, stating they liked it very much.

Nearly all the deaf of St. Thomas made a bee line recently to the parental home of Maxwell Whalls, on the Fingal Road, just beyond that city, where a most delightful time was spent. After indulging in a softball game, Mr. and Mrs. Art Whalls, Max's parents, warmly welcomed all into their home, where all kinds of fun prevailed until midnight, interwoven with a royal repast. All report a glorious time.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Braithwaite and daughter, Marion, of Windsor, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Middleton at Horning Mills, and had a glorious time. From there they went to London, arriving in time for the big picnic at Springbank Park. They seem to be having good times everywhere.

The name of Roy Coles should have been among the list who attended the outing of the Galt party to Milton on Civic holiday, as given in your issue August 28th. We regretted his name was omitted.

Canadian Schools

EDITOR OF THE JOURNAL:—

I have read with great interest Mr. Shilton's article entitled "The Canadian Deaf," published in your issue of the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, of August 21st. He has made several errors regarding the Maritimes and I should like to correct them. He says that Halifax and Fredericton have the only Eastern deaf schools. The latter was closed about twenty-eight years ago and shortly afterwards a new school was started in St. Johns, New Brunswick, by Mr. J. Harvey Brown, father of a former pupil of the Halifax School, and it was doing very well until in 1919, when the New Brunswick government took over the building for a military hospital. From that Province the deaf are sent to the Halifax School. Therefore Halifax has the only Eastern deaf school.

The oral and manual (one-hand alphabet and writing) system have been in force at the Halifax school for many years. The majority of the pupils learn the two-hand alphabet, either at their own homes or out of school. I learned it at home myself, my sister always uses it while conversing with me, and my oldest brother adopts the one-hand alphabet. The children pick up signs too out of school hours. Signs are never used in the class-rooms or in the Assembly Hall during lectures.

Again Mr. Shilton is in error about the British Columbia school. Looking up the American Annals of the Deaf, I find that it was opened in 1920—only ten years ago—not over twenty years, as he stated. I may say that it was started as a day school in 1915 or 1916, by Miss Mabel V. Bigney, a former teacher at the Halifax School and a native of Nova Scotia, to whom, I feel, should go the thanks of all the deaf of British Columbia.

The Maritime Association of the Deaf meets biennially.

DETROIT

Mr. W. K. Liddy, of Windsor, has returned, after spending five weeks with Mrs. Liddy in Petoskey and other Northern Michigan points. Mrs. Liddy will not return before the latter part of September. While in Petoskey, Mr. Liddy met many people from Chicago, who mistook him for president of the American Beef Trust.

The Flint School for the Deaf opened on September 15th.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Baird has bought a nice cozy home in Brighton.

Mr. Ray Mills, of Cincinnati, Ohio, made a call on the boys at the D. A. D. and the C. A. D. a recent Saturday.

Mr. Wm. Minsker and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cumminford, of Saginaw, Mich., were visitors at the Cadillac Association of the Deaf recently. Mrs. Cumminford's old schoolmates had not seen her for many years.

Mrs. Lawrence Lynch, of Bay City, spent a day visiting with Mrs. Peter Hellers two weeks ago.

Mrs. Rion Hoel, of Cincinnati, Ohio, has been visiting her sister at Cass Lake. Mrs. Hoel took Mrs. A. Scott to Bob-Lo on Monday, August 25th. They later called on Mrs. Peter Hellers in the evening.

Mr. Albert Buxton's mother, who has been in poor health, has gone to her old home town in Baltimore, Maryland. She has been with Mr. Buxton's family and his other son for a long time.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ball spent the week-end at Mrs. Ball's home town in Clinton, Ont.

Mrs. John Dietrich, of Jackson, spent Labor Day with her daughter in Saginaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Heymansson, Mrs. Hull and Mrs. Galton, went with Pearl Meyers in his car to Lansing to attend the picnic on M. S. C. grounds.

Mr. R. Hecht took Mr. and Mrs. R. Huhn, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pratt in his car to Lansing on Labor Day. Miss Sophia Reed, of Rochester, N. Y., spent several days with Mrs. A. Scott. They called on their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster have been staying here for a month. Mr. Foster has not got a permanent job yet.

An "Old Maid" social will be at the D. A. D. on September 27th. Everybody is welcome.

Mrs. B. Toegel will leave for Kalamazoo and will spend the winter with her daughter.

"500" and bunco social was a success, given by the Cadillac Association of the Deaf on August 30th. Mr. L. Goldstick and Mrs. S. Sproull were the winners at bridge.

Mrs. R. Jones and Mr. Frank Riley were the winners at "500," and Mrs. P. Hellers and Wm. Rheiner at bunco. Door prizes went to Miss Behrendt, Goldstick and Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses Graff and son, of Kalamazoo, were visitors of the Cadillac Association of the Deaf. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herring over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bodowsky celebrated their twenty-five years of marriage on August 23d. They invited hosts of friends for the evening. Their daughter presented them with a silver electric percolator, creamer set and tray.

Many deaf people were in Toledo on Labor Day to attend the picnic, and many of them witnessed the race between Gar Wood on Miss America, No 9, and Miss Carstairs, of England, on Estelle 4, on the Detroit River.

"He's true to God who's true to man;
Whenever wrong is done
To the humblest and the weakest
Neath the all-beholding sun,
That wrong is also done to us,
And they are slaves most base,
Whose love of right is for themselves,
And not for all the race."

Notice concerning the whereabouts of individuals will be charged at the rate of ten cents a line.

Specimen copies sent to any address on receipt of five cents.

It has not been frequently the method of relating stories about the "deaf and dumb," to correctly class the alleged deaf-mute as a fakir, but the Saturday Evening Post has done it in a story, written by Charles Francis Coe, entitled "Pennies," which was printed in the issue of August 16th. The story is of course in the line of fiction, but it gives a quite accurate and thorough exposure of the methods adopted by fakirs to fool the public. A gang of professional beggars is led by a man of wealth, which has been accumulated by pro rata assessment of the winnings of the make-believe "unfortunate" beggars. This leader of the gang of beggars is one whose family lives in a swell neighborhood and moves in the refined circles of the best people. His own family is not aware of his underworld occupation, but believe him to be a member of the world of high finance. To pursue his double life the leader of the gang is each night made-up as a lame beggar. Suspecting some of the workers of holding back his share of the graft, he sallies forth one night to keep tab on them, and is run into by an automobile and taken in an ambulance to a hospital, where his dastardly life is exposed.

One of the characters is a "deaf-mute" who can hear perfectly, but his supposed infirmity touches the hearts of the sympathetic and he reaps a rich harvest.

The story is valuable in that it teaches the public that the affliction of deafness is invariably simulated by beggars, and inculcates the truth which the JOURNAL has very often emphasized, "that the deaf do not beg."

If all the public could be reached by a newspaper paragraph, it would be a glad day for the deaf. There are schools in every State of the Union for educating them, so that after a term of years they have been fitted for all the duties of life, and are faithful and industrious workers along a variety of special occupations for which they were trained. Their dispositions are usually cheerful, their energies strenuous, their watchfulness keen and alert, and their personalities are entirely devoid of that sullenness and gloom which the ignorant often picture them.

The estimated estate of the late Dr. Archibald Murray Campbell is between $500,000 and $1,000,000. After making bequests of $20,000 to Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, $15,000 to St. Paul's Church, and $25,000 to Mt. Vernon Hospital, he gives $50,000 to his widow and a trust fund of $60,000. The granddaughter gets $10,000 outright, his son, Archibald, gets $25,000 outright, and Murray Campbell, his deaf son, now a resident of Berkeley, Cal., is bequeathed a trust fund of $30,000. The last mentioned four each get one-fourth share of the residue.

THAT indefatigable writer of Chicago, J. Frederick Meagher, has just sold another short story, that will appear in the December number of the "War Stories Magazine." This particular issue will be on the newsstands the first week of November. The deaf everywhere know that Jimmie can push a pungent pencil, and no doubt will rush to read fiction from one who represents the "silent world."

OMAHA

Owen Study, the boy with the expressive fingers, spent his vacation in the vicinity of Lake Darling, Minnesota. He and his father camped and fished for three weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kloppe have a big bouncing boy at their home since September 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar M. Treuke and their parents motored to Fort Dodge, Iowa, Sunday, August 31st. They attended a picnic for the deaf and found a large crowd of Iowans out to enjoy themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Jelinek and Messrs. Abe Rosenblatt, Edmund Berney and Hans Neuhart and Misses Maud Miller and Ruth Neuhart took advantage of a Labor Day excursion to Chicago and attended the picnic at Polonia Grove. Eugene Fry took a combined business and pleasure trip to Chicago, Danville, Illinois, and Cambridge, Wisconsin. Miss Grace M. Long daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Long of Omaha, was at the picnic with the Jelineks. She is now in New York City, rehearsing for an act that will soon go on the Orpheum Circuit.

Tom L. Anderson enjoyed two fishing trips in Minnesota at Dr. J. L. Smith's summer camp. Mrs. Anderson visited with her folks at Oakland, Nebraska, Mr. Anderson's daughter, Elizabeth, came up from Texas for an extended visit.

Nebraska Association of the Deaf held a picnic at Capitol Beach on Sunday, August 31st. Some twenty-five from Omaha and Iowa attended.

Council Bluffs Division No. 103, held a Labor Day picnic on the grounds northwest of the Iowa School main building. The weather was cloudy and cool, but a large crowd of old timers was on hand. The candy booth did a rushing business. Two baseball games were played by opposite teams composed of Iowans and Nebraskans, the Iowans winning both. This was followed by several new and exciting contests. The new school building was inspected, and sandwiches and coffee were served to one hundred and forty guests, including quite a delegation from Omaha.

Mrs. Ota Blankenship and mother are renting Miss May F. Murray's house at 4335 Binney Street for the school year. Mrs. Crawford usually spends the winter in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Chowins, Mrs. Edith O'Brien and Mrs. Ota Blankenship returned on August 26th from a wonderful auto trip of a little over 3,500 miles. They went to Buffalo for the World's Congress. Then to Ontario via Toronto and Kingston; ferried across the St. Lawrence from Brockville to Morrisstown, N. Y. and visited the F. A. Leitners and F. M. Hollidays in Pittsburgh; at Akron, Ohio, they were entertained by the Andrewzeis and Harold Newmans. They also visited the Belleville, Ont., Jacksonville, Ill., Western Penna., and Indiana Schools for the Deaf. At Clinton, Ill., they visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Karr, former N. A. Dites. At Jacksonville they were the guests of the Charles Marshalls, saw the Lincoln home and monument at Springfield, Ill. They reached Lincoln, Nebraska, via St. Joe, Mo., and had no car trouble whatever, except a puncture fifty miles from home.

The Midwest chapter held its autumn picnic at Elmwood Park, Saturday Sept. 6th, with an unusually small attendance. A game of baseball was the feature. Captain Norman Scavie's team defeated Captain Oscar Treuke's by 28 to 26. It was a thrilling and closely contested game from the beginning. A blanket game, "imported" from Fort Dodge, Ia., by Mr. Treuke caused quite a lot of amusement. A basket lunch was enjoyed and the committee, Miss Mary Dobson, Oscar M. Treuke and John J. Marty, served ice-cream and coffee. A short business session was held.

Joe Koller was married to a hearing lady last month.

Thaddeus Chabowski, a deaf professional swimmer, spent a few days in Omaha, enroute home to Chicago from California.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Jelinek spent the week-end of September 6th, in Plattsmouth, with Mr. Jelinek's parents and relatives.

BUFFALO HOOFPRIENTS

By J. FREDERICK MEAGHER

INSTALLMENT III

Wednesday morning's Courier-Express, August 6th, had a quarter-col. editorial: "Deaf in Convention." Also double half-col. story, including pix taken yesterday at Erie Beach showing some bigwigs in gondola-tandem. There's Bobs and his wife in front—what kick does a guy get gliding in gondolas through darkened grottos with his own wife?

Behind Bobs is Bandman Fancher, Jacksonville's big batter-and-bang man, with Ann McGann—who holds a social position in Chicago comparable with Dolly Gann of White House circles. Roy Stewart, of D. C., and Bill Schwab, of St. Louis. Four years as N. A. D. vice-president have left Bill's dome completely nude. Detroit's "Cinch" Hinch, with vivacious and versatile Emma Maser. "Kyclone" Kenner and his gentle "zephyr," from New Yawk. Rev. Danny Moylan and Leon Hoffman from Gawnosewhere.

PACH—AND CROSSPATCH

The Times this afternoon has a large three-col. cut of the seven foreign delegates. Also three separate articles, and a picture showing Alexander Pach, "favorite photographer of the late Teddy Roosevelt," and self, in carefully retouched poses. First picture in ages that did not make me out as a clownish baboon. That one camera is no liar!

I'VA FORD—HAVE YOU?

The local committee—working with pretty Iva Ford and sedate Eleanor Atwater—and the Niagara Falls Chamber of Commerce—deserves a bushel of gold medals for smooth-running arrangements, and for saving us each around three bucks.

Remember that $5.50 "registration and membership fee hurry-up!" we kicked about so blasphemously Monday? Well, it seems $4 of that cursed $5.50 went for a book of tickets, or "all-expense trip," which would cost us around $7 if bought separately.

A great deal of care was exercised in working out a continuous performance, to give the greatest possible entertainment at the lowest possible price. That four dollars paid for the round trip to the city of Niagara Falls—over an hour by high-speed International trolley; main trip in and around the falls and gorge; side-trips; two excellent meals retailing for $1 and $1.50; etc.

"The trip of a lifetime," they call it. It is!

BLUE-PRINT DIAGRAM OF "KAM'S" JOKE

The falls are an infallible source of jokesmith-jibes—telling the reactions of amazed beholders. Several delegates try to get their names in these Hoofprints by palming off stale jokes on me—notably about the milkman who hates to see so much water going to waste. I make no notes until Sarah Kaminsky, of New York City, springs a brand-new bon-mot. At least I never heard it before. "Good washing here," says Kam. "Hub?" says me. "No Lux, nor other soap-suds needed," and she points to the fleecy foam curdling on the maddened waters far below. Looks for all the world like soap-suds.

Sights! Sights! SIGHTS!

Following lunch, we take free buses across the bridge to Goat Island, and stand midway between the American and Canadian Falls. Wonderful view. Some pay a dollar to descend and walk around behind the rocks at the foot of the falls. Have to strip and don slicker and special footgear, as the splattering spray drenches you to the skin. Delicious on a hot day. Kodaks' working overtime. Something to show the stay-at-homes, and brag about how we hob-nobbed with the Great Guys of Deafdom at America's Honeycomb Mecca!

Free bus ride to Shredded Wheat plant. Back to loll around our respective hotels, waiting the seven o'clock meal—regular prices $1.50, but like the midday meal, free with our $4 book of tickets. We easily saved $3 by buying that book; nobody is yammering "robber" at the local committee, right now, except a few Swedes and Scotchmen.

OUR ROCK STORE COWBOY

Gladys Rockney, Wis., accosts that tall, handsome Texan—Troy Hill. "Oh, do tell me some of your thrilling experiences as a cowboy," she coaxes. Troy blushes. His wife snickers. The temptation is strong. But Troy manfully resists the temptation; squares his shoulders and blurs out the horrible truth: "Gentle lady, the only time in my life I ever wrapped these long, lean, lanky limbs on a horse, was on a merry-go-round!"

Wonderful how many intelligent folks you meet at conventions. So much smarter and better mannered than the riff-raff at home. (Or, maybe, they are on dress-parade.) There's Ota Blankenship, Omaha—I took some dirty digs at her in the papers, and she digs right back, to my surprise and delight. Most writers prove poor conversationalists—but Ota gives me a good half-hour of precise and purposeful English finger-talk. This is a great world, sometimes.

THAT CANE—AND KANE

Alex Pach—without his cane, for once. But with his Kane, as usual. Don't be in such a hurry. Harry Pierce Kane—a wonder-worker little known outside of the Metropolis—founded the first Eastern frat division; put it on its feet, and served as a Grand Vice-president about twenty years ago. Pach was the Arthur Brisbane of the late-lamented Silent Worker for nearly all of its thirty-seven years of existence; is also a gifted raconteur (how do you spell that danged word?—well, scratch it out and say "talker.") Pach springs the latest:

"The gentleman, sent by the Chinese Government to represent that country—Koliang Yih, Consul General at Chicago—with his beautiful wife and child, won the admiration of all with whom they came into contact. But they got a mighty raw deal yesterday.

"They boarded the boat for Erie Beach with us; had barely got seated when the mate of the steamer called him—the head of the family—to show the captain his credentials. Matter of it of duty, I guess. As they were issued by the Imperial Chinese Ambassador at Washington, they got the captain's O.K. But when we docked at the Canadian side, the Canadian customs men refused to allow them to set foot on Canadian territory.

"Perhaps this was the compliance with the law; but it hurt a lot of us as well as it hurt the Chinese guests."

LOST—$700 DIAMOND RING

That there wife of mine then winds her own spiel—like all women she has "a nose of news," and used it to ferret out three-fourths of the Chicago items I got credit for sending the JOURNAL before I turned the task over to mild little Pat O'Brien: Mrs. Florence Buckley, a Brooklyn widow, lost a $700 diamond ring in the Statler hotel, Monday. Reported the loss to the management, who called in city detectives and grilled the employees. This morning the ring was returned by Mrs. William Bornstein, of Chicago, who found it Monday.

RAINBOWS AND ROMANCE

Long before the scheduled starting time of nine o'clock, special trolleys—loaded to the gunwales with Nadders—cross the bridge and crawl up the Canadian shore to dump us close to the railed edge across the falls, long batteries of fixed searchlights atop the Clifton Hotel focus on the falls. White at first; later turning to purple and mauve, crimson and scarlet, yellow and green and gold.

A canopied velvet sky, mottled with star-light and stippled with the dream-dripping shining in the eyes of Everlasting Youth. Us elderly folks gazing on Nature's masterpiece, with a clutch in the throat. Youngsters paying more attention to God's greater gift—bubbling brightly besides them—than to Niagara. With a clutch at the heart.

Niagara and Young Love! Synonyms.

Wonder just when will we ageing ancients grow too old to feel strange, stirring, romantic thrills. Too old to joyously join with brilliant and beautiful convention companions—even as we did long ages past.

TWO HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Sedlowsky starts to write his story; is interrupted with the information two deaf ladies, badly bandaged, just climbed aboard. Finds their auto was hit by a reckless hearing driver in Buffalo last night. One is Mrs. F. X. Zitnik, of Akron (what in blazes did I do with that slip giving their names and particulars?)

"Only a sucker will cover deaf doings for the press." That's the sole respect in which we deaf differ from the hearing. Hearing lodges and societies shower their writers with accolades; hearing ladies bestow their sweetest smiles upon the Power of the Press. Free feeds, free rides, free everything for them. But most of the deaf I have met seem to feel that they are doing us a favor by condescending to give us any news at all. As for subscribing to the deaf magazines—Why pay money when they can "borrow" a sheet?

Who says we deaf are "restored to society?" (To be continued.)

Anent the N. A. D. Movies of the Buffalo Convention

Editor, DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL.—Several inquiries have been sent to the Deaf-Mutes' Union League Literary Committee asking the chairman whether the films may be rented outside of the League, the cost of rental or reproduction, copies sold, etc. Realizing that a majority of these inquiries come from persons or organizations who are readers of the JOURNAL, I believe you would grant the League the courtesy of this little space to acknowledge their requests for information, until more definite arrangements can be worked out by the League. The Committee has been making investigation through the Eastern Kodak Company in regard to this matter and as soon as estimates are laid before the Committee announcement will be made in the earliest issue of the JOURNAL.

A "first showing" of the films were made on Saturday evening, September 13th, in the Union Hall before a packed house, standing room prevailed as soon as the show got under way, many turned away for lack of accommodations, the hall holding only 400 comfortably. An additional hundred willingly accepted standing room until there was not an inch of space available. The Committee also wishes to make apologies to those who came a long way and were turned away and trust at the next showing they will head the "first come, first served" waiting made in the last issue of the JOURNAL.

CHICAGO

Mrs. O. Warren returned this week from Texas, after several months' stay. She took her daughter, Virginia, to the State last Spring, in hope of a pleasant climatic benefit to the daughter's failing health, but she died after a short stay. Mrs. Warren was prostrated, which necessitated a stay with her folks till she regained her health.

Mr. and Mrs. James Page, in company with six other deaf-mutes, went on a five-dollar, round-fare trip to St. Louis, Mo., to enjoy themselves at a picnic held by its deaf on Labor Day. Mr. Page had the pleasure of meeting his old friends again, after his absence of many years.

According to Mr. Page, the tenth annual convention of the Alumni Association of the Missouri deaf school, opened at the State building at Fulton, Mo., for three days' session Saturday and Sunday, August 30th and 31st and Monday, September 1st. About seventy-five persons registered. After supper on Saturday, a reception was given in the parlors by Superintendent and Mrs. H. E. Day, followed by a dance and social conversation. The next day, after breakfast Sunday morning, a religious service in the chapel. After a luncheon, the guests indulged in recreation and social conversation during the afternoon.

On Monday the meeting closed with the election of new officers for next year. Among the various resolutions adopted at the closing session, were those commending and endorsing the administration of Superintendent Day, reiterating the association's belief in the Combined System of educating deaf children.

Rev. Hasenstab conducted a service at the M. E. Mission Sunday, September 7th, for the first time in two months, which he spent at Delavan Lake, Wis. His daughter, Rev. Mrs. C. H. Elmes, was invited to close the service with a prayer.

Those who formerly resided at Peoria, Ill., and Milwaukee, Wis., attended a picnic for the deaf at each city on the same date (Labor Day), and report a splendid time and big attendances.

The Ephpheta school for Catholic deaf children opened Monday, September 8th, with a full attendance of teachers and pupils, as did the school for the oral deaf with a large enrollment.

Rev. Hasenstab departed for Jacksonville, Tuesday, September 9th, to preach at Grace M. E. Church. Then he resumed his tour through Illinois and Indiana, to fill his appointments as printed in the Silent Herald.

The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Vezinsky was the scene of a merry gathering of invited deaf friends, on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary, last month. The happy couple were remembered with cards of congratulation and useful presents.

The members of the Epworth League held a monthly business meeting, at the M. E. Mission, Saturday, September 6th, with the usual attendance.

Thomas E. Saba, of Minneapolis, Minn., is in Chicago in search of a job. He was a visitor at the M. E. Mission Sunday, September 7th.

Ben Ryan is showing some improvement since he underwent an operation for stomach trouble.

WISCONSIN NOTES

The Wisconsin deaf school opened this month with the usual enrollment and a staff of twenty-two teachers, the same as last year, with the exception of teachers, whose names are Miss Glenore E. Williams, appointed a field-worker at the same school, and Miss Helen Harris, who apparently resigned. Their places were filled with two new teachers, whose names are Mr. John Gant and Miss Virginia Spurling. Miss Gwendolyn Bray having become Mrs. Myers recently, continues as teacher.

About 250 deaf people attended an annual picnic held by the Delavan Division of the Frats, on the Spring grounds at Delavan, Wis., Sunday, August 31st. Milwaukee, Racine, Oshkosh, Kenosha and other Wisconsin cities, and also Chicago, were largely represented.

After dinner at noon, a baseball game was played between Milwaukee and Illinois players, the former winning by a score of 8 to 0, but after several innings the pouring rain rain put a stop to the game and caused the cancellation of the other athletic events. So the merry-makers were cooped up in the hall, spending the rest of the day and the evening in social conversation and some other diversions. Roby Burns, coach of the Illinois deaf school, was among the picknickers.

Wallace Emery Bray was married to Miss Clara Larsen at the home of the bride's parents at Elk Point, South Dakota on Friday, August 29th. Wallace Bray is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Emery Bray of the Wisconsin deaf school.

He is a graduate of the Randolph-Macon Military Academy at Bedford, Virginia; attended the Lake Forest University one year, and later completed the pre-medical course at the University of Wisconsin. He is now a medical student at Northwestern University, at Evanston, Ill.

Mrs. Bray is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Larsen, of Elk Point, South Dakota. She is a graduate of the Elk Point high school, and is now a graduate nurse at the Michael-Reese Hospital, Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Bray are taking an automobile trip through the middle-west. They will be at home in Chicago, October 1st.

Miss Gwetholyn Bray, who has spent her summer vacation with her parents at Delavan, Wis., has returned to Council Bluffs, Ia., where she has charge of the science department at the Iowa deaf school, after accompanying her brother, Wallace, as far as Elk Point, S. D., to be present at his wedding.

Miss Retta Williamson, who taught at the Iowa deaf school for several years, is said to have gone to the Kansas deaf school as teacher, after spending her vacation with her parents at Delavan, Wis.

Six out of the eight graduates at the Wisconsin deaf school, who successfully passed the examination last Spring, are admitted to the Gallaudet College this Fall.

THIRD FLAT.

3348 W. Harrison St.

SEATTLE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McMann left early Thursday morning for Hollywood, taking with them, Mrs. Aldersley, whom they will drop at her home in Oakland. We all hope they will come again. While they were here they were pretty well entertained. The last two parties were given by Miss Sink. One was a dinner party on August 30th, when places were set for twelve. After dinner several games were played, and Miss Canteley and Dr. Hanson won prizes. A courtesy prize of a fine handkerchief was also presented to each of the three California visitors. An afternoon farewell bridge party was also given by Miss Sink on September 3d, when the first prize was won by Mrs. Bertram and the consolation by Mrs. Waugh. Both of these affairs were efficiently conducted and thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

The McManns gave up their flat on Fifteenth Avenue Northeast at the end of the month, and spent the last few days of their stay at the New Washington. During their sojourn they made a side trip to Mt. Baker, when Misses Sink and Canteley joined them. They also spent a week-end in Victoria, where the Rileys piloted them around and they much enjoyed both side jaunts.

Miss Genevieve Sink has accepted the position of supervisor of the small boys at the State school at Vancouver, and left for her post yesterday, going up in her Chevrolet coupe. Miss Canteley, who has been her guest the past month, accompanied her. We regret profoundly to lose Miss Sink, who is a good sport all around and a fine bridge player. We shall miss her very much at our parties. We think the State school will find her a valuable helper.

Mrs. Hanson gave a farewell bridge party for Misses Sink and Canteley on Thursday, September 4th, at which there were three tables. The first prize went to Miss Sink, the second to Mr. Morrissey, the third to Mrs. Dunn, and the consolation to Mr. Dortero.

Mrs. Bertram had Misses Sink and Canteley and Mrs. Hanson up the next afternoon, September 5th, and the four ladies had a spirited bout at bridge. Mrs. Bertram kindly provided little prizes for all three of her guests. This was the last party the two young ladies attended before their departure for Vancouver.

Mrs. F. C. Holloway, of Iowa, is a visitor in Seattle for several weeks, and is staying with her friend, Mrs. Herring, who lives at Lake Forest. Mrs. Holloway is the widow of a well-known teacher at the Iowa school, and is on her way to spend the winter in Los Angeles. She says that she considers Seattle a beautiful city, and has much enjoyed the daily motor rides her friends has treated her to. Both Mrs. Holloway and Mrs. Herring were present at our bridge party on Thursday evening.

Arvid Rudnick and Osmo Kuki, the latter of Rochester, Washington, visited us the other day. They took advantage of excursion rates and spent the week-end of Labor Day in Spokane. Arvid is now in Vancouver helping Mr. Divine with his prune crop till the opening of school on the tenth.

Mrs. Lent Sandvig, the aunt of Mrs. McConnell, was one of the gold star mothers who went abroad. She had a very fine time, and was the only lady on board who did not get seasick.

Thelma McConnell has learned to drive a car, and recently drove with her aunt, and cousin, Emily, to Mora, near Lake Crescent.

Paul Hoelscher's picture appeared in the Sunday Times of August 24th, operating a machine at his glove factory on Twelfth Avenue South. The factory covers 8000 square feet, and was built in 1927. It is owned by Messrs. Lounsbury and Davis, who have been in business since 1909. It turns out gloves for fisherman, canners, shingle weavers, fruit packers, loggers, firemen, miners, teamsters, engineers, gardeners and homeworkers.

John Conley spent two weeks in Providence Hospital, where he was successfully operated on for rupture. He was visited daily by his wife while in the hospital, and by many of his deaf friends. He is now recovering at the Gorman apartments.

The Labor Day picnic at Roosevelt Park was attended by about sixty, and was a peaceful quiet day enjoyed by all. The weather was ideal. Mr. Bradbury, chairman, in charge, was assisted by Mr. Howard, and coffee and sandwiches were sold to all desiring them. In the afternoon, we had the pleasure of having Jim O'Leary and John Skoglund join us. They were in town a few days, and made a great many short calls before leaving for Spokane. Mr. Thomas Hardy, Miss Walling and Mrs. Heussy were other visitors at the picnic. The latter two came from Bremerton.

Mrs. John Medcalf is in town hoping to find work. She has a small son to support.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rolph are back from Alaska, both looking in fine shape. Almost at once on their reaching Seattle, Mrs. Rolph happened to meet her boss at the egg-candling plant, and he promptly offered her a job, saying he would take her on at once if she would come. Mrs. Rolph, however, preferred to go first for a visit to her parents' ranch in Yakima. The offer, at a time when so many are seeking work, proves the efficiency of Mrs. Rolph.

Oscar Sanders is now in Vancouver for a few weeks, helping with the Divine prune crop.

J. C. Howard is replacing the gutters on the home of W. S. Root.

Alfred Goetz and Harold Carlson, of Blaine, Wash., were recent callers. They were in town attending the Frat meeting yesterday. Alfred is returning to the State school on the tenth. Harold is in charge of the chickens on the ranch operated by his older brother. Alfred spent nearly two months visiting with Harold Arntzen at Blaine, and the Carlson ranch is right near the Arntzens.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolph, just before coming to Seattle, attended the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. Rolph's parents on an island near Anacortes. The date of the anniversary was August 30th. A gift of money in gold was presented to the long-wedded pair by their friends and descendants.

We hear that our Lailah Freese is now in Portland, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Darling. Before that she was with the Emericks at Aberdeen. Her doctor has forbidden her to work for two months following her operation for chronic appendicitis.

Alice Hanson and her husband are nearly back in New York by this time, after spending a great month honeymooning in the west. They left New York August 8th, and spent a week in Iowa visiting Homer's parents and relatives. The rolling country seemed very green and pleasant after the hot city, and a cool spell that was on just then was very grateful. They then went on to Oakland, and spent a day with Alice's older sister, Marion. They went swimming and motoring about San Francisco. They left for Seattle August 23d, on the palatial boat H. F. Alexander, arriving the 25th, for a strenuous ten days. On the 27th, they were the honor guests at a reception at the Hanson house which was attended by nearly a hundred. This was deemed the best way in which Alice could meet her friends and introduce them to her husband, as it was impossible to accept invitations for the short time they were here.

On Friday the 29th, a miscellaneous shower was given Alice at the home of Dean and Mrs. Bonham, by a group of Beta Phi Alpha girls with whom she was intimate at school, and she received many lovely gifts of silver, linen, and pewter as reminders of her western home. The week-end of Labor Day went up to Snoqualmie Pass to the mountaineer lodge there, and had some splendid hiking and climbing. Tuesday, the 2d of September, they spent with the Hansons at the summer camp of Mrs. Garretson and Mrs. Hammond. It was situated at Wauna, not very far from Tacoma by ferry, and they had some good swimming. The young couple left on the Princess Kathleen on September 4th, to return home by way of the Canadian Pacific. They expected to visit Lakes Louise and Banff on the way home. Homer was received with great approval by all who met him, and it is hoped they make their home on the coast one of these days.

Myron Clarke spent Labor Day at Playland, the new amusement park, just north of the city, that has been drawing great crowds. He proceeded to forget that he was no longer a youth and that he was not in perfect health, and went in for every amusement device in the place. He felt very gay and many years younger at the time, but has been pretty stiff and sore since. He advises no one who is not very strong to attempt the coaster.

PHILADELPHIA

News items for this column should be sent to James Reider, 1538 North Dover Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Rev. and Mrs. Warren M. Smaltz and family have returned home again, after a month's vacation spent in the vicinity of Lewes, Delaware, on the Delaware Bay. They report having had a delightful time, and praise the Bay fishing highly. Rev. Smaltz is still describing his battle with a six and three-fourths pound sea trout (or was it seven and three-fourths?) and Mrs. Smaltz proudly states she beat her angler husband one day by landing a four-pounder. Not to be outclassed, ten years old Laura Smaltz declares she holds the record by having hooked and landed four sizeable trout in one hour; while Mildred Smaltz, aged twelve, does not say much, but looks profoundly wise and satisfied. Evidently, all four of the reverend gentleman's family are anglers.

The Rev. Franklin C. Smielau, of Ohio, who was elected new president of the N. A. D. at the Buffalo Convention; and Mr. William Miller, director of athletics at the Ohio School for the Deaf, spent ten days with the Smaltzes in Delaware immediately after the Buffalo Convention. They enjoyed the excellent fishing, Rev. Mr. Smielau being an angler of known reputation.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Jump of Milford, Del., entertained Rev. Mr. Smielau, Mr. Miller, and the Smaltz family at dinner one day last month. It was a sea-food dinner par excellence, the main ingredients being supplied from the nearby Delaware Bay. The menu contained such delectables as clams, snapper soup, fried snapper, crabs, and sea trout. Rev. Smielau and Smaltz are unanimous in their conviction that Mrs. Jump is an unusually excellent chef.

At the invitation of Dr. William Marshall, M.D., of Milford, Del., Mr. Herbert C. Jump, of Milford, Mr. Rufus Bowling of Nashville, Tenn., and the Rev. Warren M. Smaltz of Philadelphia, enjoyed a delightful cruise in Dr. Marshall's private yacht, the "Echo." They four spent two days sailing Delaware Bay, enjoying the fishing, and outdoor life. Dr. Marshall was, of course, captain of the vessel. Mr. Bowling acted as first mate. Rev. Mr. Smaltz prided himself upon being an A. B. seaman; and Mr. Jump very acceptably presided over the cook's galley. In spite of the fact that fishing was not very good at the time, due to a storm at sea, they all enjoyed the cruise immensely.

A Peach Festival is announced to be held at All Souls' Church on Saturday, Sept. 27th, under the direction of Mrs. James H. Richards. Home-made ice-cream is promised with the peaches, as well as home-made cake; and moving pictures will be shown of the life of Thomas A. Edison. Admission will be 35 cents for everything, including refreshments.

The following notice has been sent out by George H. King, Secretary of the Philadelphia Local Branch, P. S. A. D.:

"The next regular business meeting will be held at the Y. M. C. A. North Building, 1013 W. Lehigh Avenue, Saturday evening, the 20th inst., to hear the various reports and also for the annual election of officers. Only paid members can vote. Notice is hereby given that the annual Donation Day will take place at the Home in Torresdale, Saturday, October 4th. Any amount of cash, clothing, or foods welcome. The treasury is very low indeed. Please help."

The Lutheran deaf have been sent notice as follows:

"After the summer vacation the services will be resumed at Lutheran Church of the Transfiguration, 1212-16 W. Lehigh Avenue, on Sunday afternoon, September 14th, at 3 o'clock. Your presence at church will be appreciated."

Remember that the church opens for the services in the afternoon of every second and fourth Sunday of each month."

A daughter was born to Mrs. Emma Richmond, the hearing daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Scott, on August 15th, last. The child has been named Pearl.

Owing to the inclement weather on Saturday, 13th of September, the annual picnic of the Clerc Literary Association, which was to be held at Pennypack Park on the Roosevelt Boulevard, has been postponed to the 20th inst.

The Clerc Literary Association held its September quarterly business meeting on the 11th inst.

On their recent visit to the city, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Zimmerman, of Altoona, called on the writer. They came here by automobile on September 2d and stopped with Mr. and Mrs. George Le Van. Sunday, 3d, they took the Le Vans and Mrs. O'Brien and son along to Atlantic City to remain over Labor Day. From there they traveled to Scranton, Pa., for a brief visit to Mr. Zimmerman's brother and then continued the trip homeward. They have a fine big automobile, which made the trip the more enjoyable.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Arnold made a trip to Allentown in the latter part of August and had an enjoyable visit with Mr. and Mrs. O. Krause.

During his recent visit to Philadelphia on business in connection with the Church Workers among the Deaf, the Rev. H. C. Merrill spent a night with the Reiders. He also called on his old friend, Mrs. Wm. L. Salter.

On Friday, September 5th, Rev. Mr. Smaltz took a fishing trip to Cape May, N. J. He returned home with a good catch of sea bass, porgies, and flounders, not to mention sharks. He favored a number of his friends with some nice fresh sea bass. Those who were more courageous were treated to shark salad of his own making. Rev. Mr. Smaltz maintains that the despised shark produces the best salad on earth when properly prepared. To date, he has only succeeded in convincing his youngest daughter, Laura, and a few more individuals. Mr. Dochney and Mr. Richards admit that shark salad "tastes pretty good."

The Sunday services at All Souls' Church will be held at 3:00 P.M. beginning Sunday, September 21st. The Holy Communion will be celebrated on that date.

Mrs. Jane Reed, the mother of Miss Dorothy Reed, was taken seriously ill recently. She entered the Oncologic Hospital, presumably suffering with cancer. Her condition appeared so grave that a brother from Florida was summoned. As a result, he arranged for Mrs. and Miss Reed both to go to his home in Florida. We are sorry to lose Mrs. Reed from Philadelphia, as she was well liked, and was an enthusiastic worker at All Souls', and in her choir.

Miss Elva Sasman is a patient in the Graduate Hospital. A this writing the nature of her illness is not known, but we wish her a speedy recovery to good health.

Rev. Herbert C. Merrill, was a guest of Mr. W. C. Ritter, Superintendent of the school for the Deaf at Newport News, Va., a few days the week of August 29th. Mr. A. Porfido who lives in Dover, N. J., is conducting a thriving refreshment stand.

Mr. William L. Ford, of Wilmington, Del., prides himself in telling friends he has worked forty years without once being late or missing a single day. Who can beat his record.

On July 9th, Mrs. Donald H. Flenner and her two young daughters, Mrs. William E. Rothmund's hearing sister, Mrs. Alexander S. McGhee, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Stevens went to Wildwood, N.J., for the day.

On July 17th, Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Spahr, of Carlisle, Pa., Mrs. Drusilla H. Boland, Washington, D.C., and Mrs. Ada J. McKeehan, of Carlisle, Pa., with Spahr's chauffeur motored via West Chester, Pa., to Mr. Harry E. Stevens' home, Left Carlisle, Pa., early morning. Left Merchantville at 5:00 P.M. for the return trip via Reading, Pa.

August 26th, Harry E. Stevens and wife went to Carlisle for a visit with Mrs. Ada J. McKeehan. They motored thither via Lancaster, York and Harrisburg.

July 27th, Mrs. James Coyle, Mr. and Mrs. J. McGinley and two children, Mrs. Coyle's young son, and Andy J. Sullivan, all of Philadelphia, motored to Harry E. Stevens, Mrs. Coyle's son at the wheel. They returned home late in the evening.

Chief Big Feather's Blankets

Jacob Hamlin, who lived in southern Utah fifty years ago when the pioneers frequently had trouble with the Indians, was noted, writes a contributor, for his honesty. As spokesman for the white settlers he gained the complete confidence of the Indian chiefs. To them he typified fair dealing, and they loved him for it.

"Take this horse," Hamlin said to his son, "and go over to Chief Big Feather and trade it for some Navajo blankets. Make a good trade."

The boy tied the horse to the horn of his saddle and led him to the reservation. "I want blankets for pinto," he said to the chief.

"How many?" asked Big Feather. "Go get the blankets and I'll tell you," the boy replied.

Big Feather brought armfuls of blankets from his wigwam and began to put them in a pile. He had made a large stack before he paused; but the boy, remembering the words of his father, said, "More!" Big Feather made a second stack, and the boy was satisfied. He rode away with blankets that were worth twice as much as the horse he had traded for them!

"Well, dad," he said when he reached home, "how's that for a good trade?"

Jacob Hamlin took the blankets from the pony and piled them into a high stack. Then he split the stack in two. "Ride back to Big Feather at once with half these blankets. Tell him that Jacob Hamlin never drives an unfair bargain."

The boy rode slowly to the reservation. "Father sent these blankets back," he said sheepishly to the chief.

Big Feather smiled. "I knew he would," he said. "Jacob Hamlin, him honest man."—Youth's Companion.

Portland, Oregon

OREGON ASSOCIATION OF THE DEAF CONVENTION AUGUST 29TH TO SEPTEMBER 1ST.

The O. A. D. convention, which has just closed, came out a complete success, with an attendance of 250 from Oregon and Washington. It opened Friday night with a reception. An address of welcome was given by the Secretary of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, Miss Lila Wagner and Miss M. Heacock entertained with a fine dance, and games were played. Ice-cream and cookies ended the reception.

Saturday morning session was called to order by President Werner, of Salem. H. P. Nelson spoke on the Home fund, followed by Jas. O'Leary, of Spokane. Other addresses were given by J. O. Reichle and C. H. Linde, of Portland, and the President's address was given in the afternoon. W. E. Kierman, Superintendent of the Meier & Franks department store, where about fifteen deaf are employed, gave a very interesting talk, expressing to the O. A. D. the satisfaction of the M. & F. Company with the deaf people who are in their employ. He outlined where the ability to do their work is as satisfactory as other persons with all their senses.

Saturday night a banquet in the ballroom at the Multnomah Hotel was attended by 117. Mr. Jas. H. O'Leary, of Spokane, Wash., was toastmaster of the evening. President Maurice Werner, of Salem, Ore., spoke of his joys and woes. Mr. John Skoglund brought greeting from the W. S. A. D., of which he is president. Mrs. J. O. Reichle sang in signs, "The O. A. D." Mr. B. L. Craven gave the history of the O. A. D. Mr. A. W. Wright gave an very interesting talk on "Our Gib's" last message, "Carry On." A comic story was told by Charles Gannon. Mr. C. H. Linde, Secretary of the O. A. D., spoke for the good of the deaf auto driver. J. O. Reichle, Treasurer, told of the value of conventions. Mr. T. A. Lindstrom, teacher for twenty-five years at the Salem deaf school, told of the deaf of Salem. Rev. E. Eichmann, pastor of the Hope Lutheran Church for the Deaf of Portland, told of the ability of the deaf. Mr. L. A. Divine, for many years instructor at the Vancouver deaf school, told of the necessity of a Home for Aged Deaf. Mrs. B. L. Craven sang the closing song, "America," by signs.

Sunday an all-day picnic was held at Alberta Park. Many contests for cash prizes were on the program. The horseshoe pitching between Washington and Oregon came out pretty even. The best pitching on the Oregon side came from a young Portland man, named Walter. W. S. Root, of Seattle, looked like the champion for Washington.

The ladies' pitching contest between Oregon and Washington was won by Mrs. Horn, of Vancouver, Wash. Mr. Fay directed the picnic with about 235 present.

Monday morning a business meeting was held and the election of officers for the next two years resulted. For President, J. O. Reichle; First Vice-President, C. H. Linde; Second Vice-President, Mrs. B. L. Craven; Secretary, H. P. Nelson; Treasurer, B. L. Craven; all of Portland. Salem, Ore., was selected as the next place to hold the 1932 convention. Here are the new resolutions adopted at close of the convention:

Resolved, That the Oregon Association of Deaf want the general public to be on its guard and refuse to be victimized by beggars and panhandlers working under the guise of deafness, an old trick of crooks for making an easy living; and

Resolved, That the public should always bear in mind that the really deaf have no use for charity and feel too keenly their affliction to victimize it for such; and

Resolved, That the public should report all deaf beggars to the police, where legitimate cases can be turned over to the proper relief organizations and crooks punished; and further,

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be mailed to the police chiefs of the large cities of the state.

Visitors from out of town were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Root, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wright, Valentine E. Cookson, Harold R. Malstrom, Morris Pederson, Wm. J. LaMotte, Oscar Sanders, Miss L. Freese, Mrs. Pauline Gustin, L. Christenson, Mrs. Edith Ziegler, all from Seattle. From Tacoma, Wash., were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ecker, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Huffman. From Aberdeen, Wash., came Mr. and Mrs. Frank Enerick, Alan B. Crammatte, Mr. W. W. McClain, Emil Rath. From Camas, Mrs. Maud Chasse, Miss Zelma Walton. From Chehalis, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Jack. From Spokane, Mr. James H. O'Leary, John Skoglund, and Mrs. Grant Daniels, of Sioux Falls, S. D.; Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Aronson, of Oakland, Cal. Committee—H. P. Nelson, chairman; C. H. Linde, J. O. Reichle, R. Spieler, O. H. Fay, Mrs. A. Kautz and Julia Dodd.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Eden are the proud father and mother of a seven-pound baby boy, born September 4th. They now have a son and daughter. Congratulations to the happy father and mother from their many Portland friends.

Mrs. H. P. Nelson was bedridden for two weeks, down with the salitice, a painful illness, but the third week has shown a little improvement. The S. F. L. and O. A. D. presented Mrs. Nelson with fine flowers and a plant. Mr. F. Delaney was also on the sick list, but at the time of writing showed some recovery. The O. A. D. presented Mr. Delaney with five dollars cash.

Mrs. Pauline Gustin was the guest for nearly a month of Mr. and Mrs. Gromachy. Mrs. C. H. Linde gave an afternoon party in honor of Mrs. Gustin. That same night, Mrs. W. Thierman gave a party at her home in honor of Mrs. J. P. Jack, of Chehalis, Wash. Both Mr. and Mrs. Jack were guests of the Thiermans during the O. A. D. convention. Mrs. Jack, who has somewhat a jolly disposition, considered Mr. Root, of Seattle, as a senator, because of his stature, during a gathering at the Nelson home on Monday night, September 1st.

OHIO

September 8th, the Ohio school was a busy place for everyone as that was opening day and the pupils returned, seemingly glad to come back. The day was a perfect one—just cool enough to be pleasant. All the teachers reported for duty except Miss Lamson, who is not yet able to be out. Miss Zell, who is confined to her home from lumbago, and Miss Jackson, who is still under the doctor's care from her accident. Mr. James Steward was on hand to meet his old friends among the teachers and the students. He is now enjoying life on a pension. Mr. L. LaFountain was receiving congratulations upon his promotion to the High School department. He will teach mathematics. I understand that there are quite a number of new pupils, thus keeping up the usual attendance of five hundred.

Mrs. Chester B. Huffman has returned to her home with her two children after a ten days' visit to her old home in Kentucky. She attended the reunion at Danville.

Mrs. Clara Leib suffered a shoulder dislocation and a general shock when she fell on the porch one evening. Mrs. Preston Stevenson is looking after Mrs. Leib's home for her, as it will be some time before she can be around again.

The board of women visitors to the Ohio Home spent September 5th at the Home inspecting the place. They found water had been taken to the third floor and a large porch had been added to the kitchen during the summer months. Later a report will be made to the Board of Managers.

Mrs. Minnie Schory has returned from a visit with a cousin in California. Before resuming her duties at the school for the blind, she spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Chapman at their home in Westerville. At her stop over in Chicago she visited with Miss Margaret Schumacher, a former teacher at our school.

Mrs. William Murphy has been in Nashville, Tenn., where she has been taking care of her mother, who was seriously ill, followed an operation.

Miss Mary Stevens, of Portsmouth, is more fortunate than many other deaf workers, as the shoe factory where she is employed has been so busy that their employees were not even given vacations.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Sawhill, of Pittsburgh, tell me that they with their son, Harold, had a wonderful motor trip along the Shenandoah Valley in August. They went through Cumberland, Md.; Romney, W. Va.; and on to Lexington. From there they went to Natural Bridge. Later they arrived in Cincinnati, and were guests of Mrs. H. Woolley where they met several old Ohio friends. At Dayton they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Munday and called on Miss Lingle. In Columbus they rested at Mr. and Mrs. Wark's home, and when the Stitch and Chatter Club met with Miss MacGregor, Mrs. Sawhill was there to do most of the chattering. When they went back to Pittsburgh they took Mrs. Ruth home with them for a week's stay.

Miss Hattie Deem and Mrs. Mary Deem Wood, teachers in Gallaudet School, St. Louis, after a fine trip through Michigan and Canada, spent a few days in Akron with Mr. and Mrs. Andrewjeski and Mr. and Mrs. Carter, after attending the Buffalo meeting. Miss B. Newkirk, of St. Louis, was with the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Larson, of Chicago, have been in Akron guests of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Philips. The latter was educated at the school in New Mexico, which was started by Mr. Larson.

Miss Carrie Lingle, Dayton, suffered another stroke of paralysis Monday afternoon, September 1st. For a time she was supposed to be dying, but after being unconscious for about three days she began to revive, and yesterday (September 6th) when she was visited she was found to be able to converse a little normally, but between times her mind wandered.

Mrs. Zell and Miss Bessie MacGregor were here Sunday, August 31st, to see Carrie, and Miss Biggam came Sunday, August 7th.

The Dayton Ladies' Aid Society had a picnic at McCabe park August 21st. Only six members attended, as it rained that afternoon and evening, but in spite of it, they claim to have had a good time at Lakeside, nearby, where amusements of all kinds rule.

Mr. Fred Munday and wife left for New York City on August 28th, where a sister of the latter guaranteed to place them in a position of some kind.

Mrs. Mamie Schmoll, of Dayton, fell down a dark cellar stairway, at her home August 24th, and sustained some painful bruises on her lower limbs.

NEW YORK

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

THE N. A. D. FILM SHOWN AT THE UNION LEAGUE

As expected, on Saturday evening, September 13th, 1930, there was a big turnout to see the N. A. D. films taken by Mr. Max Lubin at the Buffalo convention.

Half hour before the show, the Union League Hall was packed, and several who came at a distance and were delayed by trains, were admitted, but they had to stand, as all available seats had been taken.

The Literary Committee met after the show, and after consideration, decided to submit a report to the League when it holds its next meeting (this Thursday, September 18th), to give two more exhibitions of the N. A. D. films. First to members and their wives or sweethearts, and the second exhibition for non-members.

First was a nine-reel film, called "We Americans."

While this was very interesting, the majority almost became impatient for they had come to see the N. A. D. films.

The N. A. D. films came next in clear letters that they were under the auspices of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League.

Our chairman of the Literary Committee, Mr. Max M. Lubin, appeared on the screen, and after preliminary remarks, introduced Mr. Samuel Frankenheim, the chairman of the De l'Epee Statue Fund, who described in clear signs and spelling his long labor for the fund, which eventually terminated successfully.

The unveiling ceremonies then were shown. Besides the unveiling, there was shown groups of prominent deaf-mutes conversing on the grounds of Le Couteux Institute for Deaf-Mutes and at beaches in Canada.

The exhibition terminated in showing a comedy in two reels.

Mr. Eugene Strauss, the deaf Hungarian delegate to the Buffalo N. A. D. convention and International Congress of the Deaf, since the convention has lingered in New York City. He was present at the movie show last Saturday, and for the first time he was able to see himself as others have seen him—on the screen.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Monaelesser were at the movie show. Their friends congratulated them on their narrow escape from their recent accident.

Among those who came late for the movie show at the Deaf-Mutes' Union League, last Saturday night, was Rev. J. M. Koehler. He was obliged to forego the pleasure, and passed the evening in the billiard room conversing with other late arrivals.

Friends and acquaintances were much surprised and moved to sadness at the news that after a brief illness, John Hagermann had passed away. He died at Bushwick Hospital of double pneumonia, at the age of twenty-four years, on Monday September 1st, at 5:30 A.M. Funeral services were held at his home in Ozone Park on Wednesday, where Rev. Arthur Boll spoke orally and in signs to the assembled deaf.

John Hagermann was a graduate of the oral school, and a familiar person among the deaf. He was a genial person of sturdy build and good character. He was an industrious young man, adverse to all idleness. He also had a knowledge of the Savior of mankind, and his faith and trust in Him is his passport to life eternal. His death is mourned by his parents, a deaf sister and brother, Caroline and William, and a host of friends, deaf and hearing, who paid him the last tribute and sent him beautiful floral pieces.

The opening business meeting of the Hebrew Association of the Deaf will be held at the Temple, 210 West 91st Street, this Sunday afternoon, September 21st, at 2:30 P.M. Matters of great importance will be discussed. Services for the approaching Holy-Days will be held at the same beautiful edifice as last year, Temple Emanuel-El, 1 East 65th Street, near Fifth Avenue, on the following dates:—

New Year's—Monday evening, September 22d, 8 P.M.; Tuesday morning, September 23d, 10 A.M. Day of Atonement—Wednesday evening, October 1st, 8 P.M.; Thursday morning, October 2d, 10 A.M. Regular Friday evening services will be resumed at the Temple Israel, 210 West 91st Street, on and after Friday, October 10th.

This Saturday evening, September 20th, in the Union League Hall, the Entertainment Committee, headed by Mr. Lawrence Timer, will stage a "500" and whist party. Cash prizes will be awarded, and also a special prize will go to the highest bidder in the "500." This party is open to all. Mr. Timer hopes for a big turnout.

FANWOOD

The Institution laundry for the past week has been as busy as a beehive. By this it is not meant that on account of the school opening an extra amount of laundering is being done. Just the reverse. Strange as it may seem, no washing is being done at all, but loads and loads of large pieces of new machinery are being carted in and old taken out. Dozens of men are at work installing new apparatus that will make our clothes as clean as the proverbial driven snow. The old machinery was put in when the building was erected some thirty-five years ago and has been in constant use ever since. Naturally it is not only worn out, but is antiquated.

Two 40-inch extractors that will wring the clothes will replace the old ones.

The old wooden wash tubs give way to new ones composed of stone.

Then there are other miscellaneous articles that go to make a laundry equipment.

The electricians are putting in a new lighting system. The painters are busy making the place spic and span. The old steam engine that has been making all this machinery go for so many years is being torn apart and made like new.

The old mangle, when new, was the first one of its type to be made. It is being replaced with a four 100-inch roll of the modern type. The old foot-power press is being replaced with twin presses, which will be operated by electricity and compressed air. The old-fashioned drying room has been torn out and a 40 by 64 inch tumbler put in its place. This not only insures quicker drying of clothes, but will act as a sterilizer, as the clothes will be dried under high steam pressure.

Albert Pyle is the Fanwood correspondent this year again, and he hopes to make the column bigger and better this school year. When you have any news to tell, get in touch with him.

Doings of the pupils during the summer vacation are the chief topics of conversation the past few days.

Albert Pyle spent a delightful two months' vacation on the estate of his aged grandfather in Cleveland, Tenn. He had an enjoyable time, swimming and doing small chores on the farm. During his stay he made several side trips in a friend's auto to cities near Cleveland, such as Chattanooga, Charleston, London, Sweetwater, and Calhoun, Tenn. Now he is much refreshed from the vacation. There are four deaf-mutes in the small city of Cleveland. One, named Mr. Mills, is employed as a linotype operator on the Cleveland Daily Banner.

Louis Pacifico spent over two weeks in Miami, Fla., and this was the first time he was down there. He was almost baked by the heat. He and Albert Capocci were in a diving contest held at Tibbet's Brook in Yonkers, N. Y., and Albert won the third place, while Louis ranked fourth.

Michael Cairano had the fine opportunity to visit Boston, Buffalo and Niagara Falls, early in July. He went in the car of his brother, Nicholas. An enjoyable sightseeing time is reported.

Frank Pusefski did much bicycling throughout the summer, and several hundreds of miles are credited to him. He also spent three weeks at the home of Thomas Kollenda, Southampton, L. I.

Felix Kowalewski and George Herbst returned much sunburnt from their trip in tropical lands and waters. Before returning to school, they went motorboating and fishing in Hampton Bay.

William Rayner had a most enjoyable time on a farm in Union, Beach, N. J. He did lots of swimming and driving around in an auto. He looks fine now, and is all smiles.

The only one who did much baseball playing in a hearing team during the vacation is Sandy Tedesco. We expect him to help our team win many games in the future.

Joseph Nuch spent a fortnight in Philadelphia, Pa., with his nephew, and a good time was had by them.

Louis Balkoski made a trip to Bear Mountain on one of those river boats during the summer time.

Sunday morning, Irving Auslander invited Wesley Wilson for a ride in an automobile driven by the former.

On Wednesday, September 10th, Miss Madeline Kauth, a graduate of last June, was a visitor.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Karus also called the same day. Mrs. Karus (nee Garrick) was a graduate of a few years back, and is the sister of Mr. James Garrick of the printing department.

Florida Flashes

Hurricanes in Florida? Maybe and may not be. Why should we worry? We really prefer them to earthquakes in California. Weather signals and warnings are issued a day or two in advance, so we may be prepared for hurricanes, but in California you have no means of knowing when earthquakes may rock your residence or crush your life. Enuf sed.

Miss Mary Jim Crump returned Wednesday from a three weeks' visit to Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Cleveland and Washington. She enjoyed a house party at Toronto. Winter Haven (Fla.) Chief of August 28th.

Charles Manire has married again and taken to himself to a hearing lady as a life companion two weeks ago. The couple are making their future home in Gainesville, where Mr. Manire is employed in the mechanical department of the Evening News office.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Austin have returned to Tampa from Detroit. Due to the hot weather they left their baby with Mrs. Austin's sister in Kentucky.

Rev. and Mrs. Utten Read, of St. Petersburg, left July 23d for Cincinnati to visit with relatives until the holiday season. While there Mr. Read will assist his son in constructing an apartment.

Willard Kirby, of Gainesville, was called to Jacksonville recently to be at the bedside of his sister at St. Luke's hospital, who was injured in an auto accident. Her condition is reported to be progressing favorably. Before returning home, Willard spent Labor Day at Jacksonville Beach.

A ten-pound son, born to Mr. and Mrs. Boake on August 4th, died two days later. Before marriage Mrs. Boake was Susie Williams, of Tampa.

Elmer Siegfried is raising blooded tomatoes at the large lot north of the Monon Lumber Co., and they are fine and large.—Monon (Ind.) News. Mr. Siegfried is a Buckeye native and married a Hoosier belle. He has considerable real estate in Florida, which he bought during the boom days.

L. E. Egle, five years secretary of the Arcadia Chamber of Commerce, has gone to Athens, Tenn., where he is actively connected with newspaper interest. It is understood that his son, Louis, and his wife, who are well known among the deaf of Florida, will forsake Sebring and join Mr. Egle at Athens. Louis is a linotype operator and for several years has been with the Sebring American.

According to information received from Tampa, a position as photo-engraver has been offered H. S. Austin, who has accented it and will report for work soon. His many friends will be glad to hear of his good fortune.

A boatyard owned by C. E. Vanderpool and fifteen small fishing craft were completely destroyed by fire at 11 p.m. on August 30th, at South Jacksonville. Mr. Vanderpool is a brother of Mrs. W. E. Gholdston, of Atlanta.

Vacation days are soon over, but Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Kelly are contemplating a two weeks' sojourn at Starke, where Mr. Kelly has a cottage on the beautiful Kingsley Lake. At the conclusion of their vacation they will return to their home in Gainesville.

Recently a motoring party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wortman, of St. Petersburg, Mrs. G. Boltz and Miss Georgette Duval, of Tampa, spent a very delightful day with Mrs. Anna Nelson and her brother, Edward Clemons, at Plant City.

Mrs. Mary J. Hobart and her son, Fred, who have been visiting with her parents in Clarendon, Ark., the past two years, will again occupy their residence at Homestead on September 26th.

Edward Clemons is pounding ivories on the linotype keyboard in the Plant City Courier and his work seems to be satisfactory to his employer. He learned the trade at the St. Augustine school.

Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Duval, of Tampa, announce the engagement of their daughter, Georgette, to Mr. Arthur E. Spears, of Chicago. Their marriage will take place some time during the early part of next summer.

Miss Georgette Duval, of Tampa, left this month for Baton Rouge, La., to be in readiness at the opening of the deaf school, with which she is connected in a responsible capacity.

Miss Benlah Leach, who has been visiting in the home of her sister at Jacksonville this summer, is expected home in Lakeland before the first of October.

Out in Tampa Shores, where Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Whitley enjoy country life, was a delightful event on August 10th, when Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Austin, Mrs. Boltz, and Miss Duval, of Tampa, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wortman, of St. Petersburg, called.

Among most pleasurable features of Labor Day was a big picnic of, for and by, the deaf at Bartow. The attendants traveled from all parts of the state within motoring distance. Full details are lacking.

Mrs. Leon P. Jones and daughter, Doris, are making arrangements to return home to DeLand before the opening of school, from their summer visit with relatives in Ohio. During their absence, Mr. Jones has been working part time as linotype operator in the vicinity of DeLand, and as soon as his family arrives, he expects to land a permanent position somewhere in Florida.

Samuel Knott launches a business on his own hook in Deland, after having been for a long time a member of the unemployment army. With his father's financial backing, Samuel has fitted up a broom factory on a small scale. The demand for good brooms is so brisk, and orders from neighboring cities so regular, that Mr. Knott is considering the advisability of enlarging the plant to meet the growing trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Cory are once again enjoying nice breezes of the bay and gulf in St. Petersburg, having returned from a very pleasant visit of two months in the North, where the weather has been quite unbearable. They attended three conventions in three different States and reported a grand time, renewing acquaintances whom they have not had seen in many years.

The packing season soon being in full swing, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dean have settled down in Florence Villa and will be employed in one of the new citrus fruit packing houses. Walter is enjoying the distinction of being considered one of the best packers and nailers in the field.

It is understood that a Bible class of the deaf will soon be started in Gainesville, under the leadership of Mrs. Emmet Kelly. More power to her. Who will emulate her example in other Florida cities?

F. E. P.

Los Angeles, Cal.

A reception was given the evening of August 18th in honor of Miss Therese Gaillard, by Mr. and Mrs. Norman V. Lewis at their charming Hollywood home. Miss Gaillard, who is a teacher at the South Carolina School for the Deaf, had been spending two months of her vacation with her sister at Gloria Gardens, near Long Beach. She visited some with a college friend, Mrs. Emma Moran, at Monrovia. She was one of the '01 class at Gallaudet College, graduating at the same time as Mr. Daniel Moran. Mr. Joe Bixler wanted to take a picture of the party at the reception and all went out in the yard, which has a pretty lawn and was lighted by electric lights, and when he had them grouped he set off a flashlight, which quite scared those not expecting it.

Just then they discovered that in the next yard were two actors watching the proceedings with interest. One of them was the celebrated "Bull Montana," and the other Mr. Lewin, who attempted to talk to the deaf by signs and the two-handed alphabet, and they seemed much interested in the party. Mrs. Lewis and daughter served punch, assorted wafers and candy. The actors were offered some too, but only accepted punch, as they had just got back from the studio and were going to have dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Barrett entertained Miss Gaillard at dinner and took her to the dance at the Athletic Club August 20th. As her sister lives at such a distance, Miss Gaillard was able to take in only a few of the meetings of the Los Angeles deaf. Come again and stay longer.

One of the few places in Los Angeles where silent movies are shown is at the Los Angeles Silent Club. August 16th the movie was "The Girl on the Barge," and August 30th "The Bachelor Girl" was shown, when the new moving picture machine was used for the first time, so a continuous performance was given with no waiting to change reels. This is the only club on the coast with two picture machines. While on the subject of movies, let me here pass on the news that the picture of the Byrd Expedition in the Antarctic is well worth seeing, which is not a talkie, and in the war picture, "All Quiet on the Western Front," there is so much action that it can be understood by the deaf, but those who have not read the book should be in their seats before the beginning of the picture. It is one which shows war stripped of all glory and idealism.

Los Angeles newspapers carried columns concerning the career of Lon Chaney, whose death came quite unexpectedly early in the morning of August 26th, after it was supposed he had safely passed the crisis of his illness. The deaf everywhere have always felt a particular interest in him, because he was the son of deaf-mutes and because they enjoyed his acting. He is survived by his wife and son Creighton, his step-mother Mrs. Cora Chaney, a sister Mrs. Carrie Kevs, and two brothers, John and George Chaney.

Contrary to expectations, Perry E. Seely did not win the nomination for Assemblyman in the 67th district in the primaries. His total of 320 votes was a lot more than the Socialist candidate received, who only polled forty votes. Mr. Seely is not downhearted over his defeat, and said he learned many things from his campaign by which he will profit if he should run again at some future date.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman, of Terra Bella, Cal., have been spending their annual vacation in Los Angeles and at the beaches. Mrs. West and Mrs. Conway, of Oakland, are also visiting here.

Miss Ella Roy, the only one from Los Angeles to attend the Buffalo convention, is back and telling of the wonderful time she had on this, her first trip outside of her native California.

Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Wittwer went to Catalina Island for a week's vacation. Each had two weeks vacation, but not being able to get them at the same time they managed one week together. They returned much refreshed by their stay at the beautiful island.

Mrs. Jennie Weller and her daughter and son-in-law and two children had a long auto trip the latter part of August. They went first to San Francisco, then to Sacramento, and then as they were nearing Auburn, Mrs. Weller remembered an old Illinois schoolmate, Mrs. Cushman, living in that vicinity. They located her on a mountain ranch, where she has lived for many years with her husband and children, who are now grown up. The Weller party then went on to Lake Tahoe and Mono Lake in the Sierras and returned by way of the Yosemite Valley, and were all enthusiastic over the wonderful mountain scenery.

Mrs. Simon Himmelschein had a small bridge party at her apartment in honor of Miss Marion Finch. Delicious refreshments were served and first prize was won by Mrs. Grace Noah and second by Miss Lela Finch, and a lovely handkerchief given as guest prize to Miss Marion. She left on August 28th to resume her duties at the school for the deaf at Salem, Oregon.

A committee of the Athletic Club was given the job of finding a novel place for the banquet honoring the champion bowlers, and to the surprise of every one they acquitted themselves by making arrangements for the feast to be held on the pleasure ship, Joanna Smith, which is anchored twelve miles off Long Beach. The small price of seventy-five cents each was fixed for the dinner, which included transportation in water taxis from the Long Beach pier. August 23d was the date and the 138 who dined there reported a good dinner. The ship is a little Monte Carlo and stories of winnings offset others of losses by those who tried their luck at the gambling devices. This ship is well patronized by hearing people, as was its sister ship, which was recently burned and sunk.

There was a surprise birthday party on Mrs. Nellie Roberts of September 7th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Larson. It was given by Mrs. Larson and Mrs. Roberts' daughter, Beryl. There were thirty friends present, who had a pleasant social afternoon, after which refreshments were served. It was a complete surprise to Mrs. Roberts, who received many useful and beautiful presents. Mrs. Roberts returned in May from a four months stay in Iowa, where she had been called to attend the funeral of her father, for many years a physician at Greene, Iowa. He came from a family of doctors and died at the age of eighty, still being in the harness and having called on a patient in the morning of the day on which he was stricken by heart failure. Since her return, there have been two "Welcome Home" parties for Mrs. Roberts, one given her by the ladies of the Bridge Club, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wilder, and the other in June at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Larson.

Mr. Edward Ould read in the JOURNAL of the death of the hearing husband of Mrs. Frank Roberts, of New York City, and extends his sympathy to her. Mrs. Roberts and Mr. Ould were classmates at the old Hartford School.

Mrs. Stiehler, wife of the late Wilbur Stiehler, of Lincoln, Neb., is a recent arrival and was greeting friends at the Los Angeles Silent Club. She got a job in San Pedro, where her sister lives.
